Petroleum Engineering Program is arranging the Annual TAMUQ Student Paper Contest on Saturday, Feb 14, 2009. This contest allows university students to write and present technical papers. The contest is split between TAMUQ senior, junior and postgraduate students.

Presentations will be held on 9 parallel sessions. Papers and presentations are judged by industry professionals during the event. The judges will rank the first two winners from each session.

This contest is financially sponsored by ExxonMobil. Winners of each division will be announced on Saturday after completion of the event.
